Columbia-Geneva Steel Lists Firm's Last Offer for Vote

Columbia-Geneva Steel division of U.S. Steel has sent to each employee copies of its final offer to the Steelworkers union. Under federal law, the employees may vote secretly on acceptance or rejection if no accord is reached with the union leaders by Jan. 6.

The National Labor Relations Board would supervise the election between Jan. 6 and 21. Elements of U.S. Steel's final offer are wage increases at the start of the second and third years of the new contract, payment by the company of all life insurance and sickness and accident benefits, rather than half, and pay half the cost of hospital and surgical insurance.

The company would increase pensions and continue seniority rights, providing added protection in event of a long layoff. It also proposes establishment of a human-relations committee to study mutual problems.

The company denied it is trying to break the union, declaring it was the first to sign a contract with the Steelworkers.

U.S. Steel, the management contended, is working toward continued improvement of its relationships with the union.

Psychologist to Be Speaker at Torrance Y Dads' Night

The Torrance YMCA has extended an invitation to all fathers of the community to attend a helpful Dads' Night at the Y tomorrow at 7:30.

Dr. Thomas Parker, clinical psychologist, will speak to the dads on ways to better understand their children. Dr. Parker brings extensive training and experience with youngsters to all fathers who wish to know more about how to deal effectively with their offspring.

The event is being sponsored by the local Y Indian Guide tribes under leadership of William Poser. The Torrance YMCA is operating 52 Guide tribes for fathers and sons.

Poser is urging all dads to take advantage of this evening of fellowship and education. There is no admission charge.

TORRANCE STUDENTS TO BE TEACHERS

College students from Torrance are among 580 prospective elementary teachers studying at the University of California, Santa Barbara.

Preparing for elementary teaching are Jo Anne Bunker, 5008 Milne Dr., senior; Judith Ann Powell, senior; Sally Lynn Synou, 824 Meech Avenue, special undergraduate; and Jean Louise Wagner, 16826 Thornburgh, sophomore.

New Creed for County Staff

A new creed for Los Angeles County employees, a seven-article statement for guidance of county workers, will go on display this week in county departments.

Drawn by the employees, the creed is being displayed on 500 posters and counterboards in offices where employees meet the public.

Hahn pointed out the secretaries now receive a top pay of $677 a month and that the two-schedule increase would raise it to $755 a month.

"I certainly think that the secretaries are paid enough now, and I am strongly opposed to granting raises to our own staff members," Hahn declared.

He added that the board already had turned down requests for salary increases for other county employee groups and that "it would not be fair to increase the pay of our staffs."
